

Dear Sir/ Madam,

Thank you very much for considering my abstract submission. I am honored to be invited to the 4th International Conference on Neuroscience and Psychiatry.

As a primary school teacher in the public education system, I have specialized in mathematics and sciences while also teaching music and physical education. Additionally, I hold a Master's degree in Advanced Neuroeducation from the University of Barcelona. Currently, I am involved in teacher training through a course titled "Brain, Nature, and School."

My presentation at the congress will be centered around my scientific publication titled "The Influence of the Natural Environment on Learning in Primary School Students." During my talk, I aim to delve deeper into how the brain responds to natural surroundings and how we can harness this knowledge to benefit both primary school education and adults alike.

Thank you once again for this opportunity. I look forward to contributing to the 4th International Conference on Neuroscience and Psychiatry.

Best regards,

Marina Duset Panareda
